DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lee (U.S. Pat. 6,334,663).

Lee discloses:

- regarding claims 1, 11, head caps (350) to revolve between a capping position and an uncapping position; a slider (380, 110) to slide with respect to the head caps, and having wipers (210, 200) mounted on a front end portion thereof; a slider movement unit (2) to slide the slider; (Figures 4-6; Column 5, Lines 32-65)
- a revolution unit (310) disposed between the head caps and the slider to revolve the head caps in association with the sliding of the slider with respect to the head caps (Figures 4-7)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee (U.S. Pat. 6,334,663) in view of Tee et al (U.S. Pat. 6,679,579)

Lee discloses all the claimed limitations above except for the following:

- regarding claim 10, the slider slides in a perpendicular direction with respect to a printing direction of the printer heads

Tee discloses:

- regarding claim 10, the slider slides in a perpendicular direction with respect to a printing direction of the printer heads (Figures 1-2; Column 3, Lines 30-40), for the purpose of maintaining inkjet printhead at its optimal condition

At the time the invention was made it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate the teaching of Tee into the device of Lee, for the purpose of maintaining inkjet printhead at its optimal condition

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6/5/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Regarding claims 1 and 11, applicant argues that Lee does not disclose the invention as recited in claim 1 and 11. However, the structure of the slider and revolution unit are not clearly defined in claims 1 and 11, so Lee meets all of the claimed limitations of claims 1 and 11. Lee discloses guide pins (380), which clearly slide within the guide slots of the housing in order to revolve the revolution unit (moving member 310), in association with the guide pins (slider 380), to cap and seal the nozzle. The carriage (2) moves along the guide shaft to the service area and pushes the slider

(380) and revolution unit (moving member 310). The carriage (slider movement unit) slides the slider (380) as disclosed in claims 1 and 11.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-9, 12-21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The primary reason for indication of allowable subject matter of claims 2, 4-8 is the inclusion of the limitation of a shaft disposed under the printer heads, a revolving member to revolve on the shaft and coupled with the head caps thereon; and links, each hingedly coupled to the revolving member and the slider, to activate the revolving member while interlocking with the slider. It is this limitation found in each of the claims, as it is claimed in the combination, that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record which makes these claims allowable over the prior art.

The primary reason for indication of allowable subject matter of claims 3, 17-21 is the inclusion of the limitation of a first hinge shaft to protrude on a side of the slider; and a second hinge shaft to protrude on a side of the revolving member, wherein the second hinge shaft is located a position lower than the first hinge shaft when the slider and revolving member are disposed in parallel to each other. It is this limitation found in each of the claims, as it is claimed in the combination, that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record which makes these claims allowable over the prior art.

The primary reason for the indication of allowable subject matter of claim 9 is the inclusion of the limitation of a rack provided on an upper surface of the slider along a sliding direction. It is this limitation found in each of the claims, as it is claimed in the combination, that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record which makes these claims allowable over the prior art.

The primary reason for indication of allowable subject matter of claims 12-15 is the inclusion of the limitation of a shaft to couple to the revolving member to move upward and downward in the casing and mounted in front of the entrance of the casing; and links to connect the revolving member and the slider. It is this limitation found in each of the claims, as it is claimed in the combination, that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record which makes these claims allowable over the prior art.

The primary reason for indication of allowable subject matter of claim 16 is the inclusion of the limitation of a spittoon connecting portion provided with a pair of spitting holes on opposite sides of the slider, wherein the spitting holes of the spittoon connecting portion are aligned with the slits of the wiper connecting portion. It is this limitation found in each of the claims, as it is claimed in the combination, that has not been found, taught or suggested by the prior art of record which makes these claims allowable over the prior art.
